

Eddie Edwards

Partner Of Counsel
eddie.edwards@dinsmore.com

Pittsburgh, PA
Tel: (412) 288-5853

With over twenty years of experience, Eddie has specialized in corporate and sports law throughout his career. He leverages his in-house experience to guide his clients through complex transactions and legal challenges, including joint ventures, mergers, equity investments, and more. Businesses of all sizes seek his unique blend of business acumen and legal expertise to navigate a range of business acquisitions and sensitive matters. Eddie is committed to serving his clients as a problem solver and leverages his experience to develop customized strategies across various industries, including the rapidly expanding world of sports.

Prior to joining Dinsmore, Eddie gained invaluable experience working as an executive in the television and sports industries and has forged strong relationships nationwide. He draws from his distinct experience to counsel his clients on diverse matters and provide tailored solutions. Additionally, Eddie has partnered with NCAA athletes to cultivate their Name, Image and Likeness “NIL” opportunities, advising them on all aspects of maximizing their NIL rights. Eddie has also worked in entertainment, offering expert legal guidance to talent through intricate off-set matters.

Beyond his career achievements, Eddie is a proud husband and father of three children, all of whom were Division I athletes. In addition to his legal practice and spending time with his family, he is deeply committed to giving back and actively serves on multiple community boards. Eddie spends his free time playing golf and pickleball, balancing his professional success with a strong commitment to community and personal fulfillment.
