Karin is a health care attorney whose practice focuses on medical malpractice litigation. She is a passionate defender of care providers and a dogged advocate for clients. Karin's experience in the courtroom includes representing health care professionals in multi-million dollar wrongful death, personal injury, and birth injury suits, and her work in defense of clients includes jury trials and arguing cases on appeal.

During her time at Loyola University Chicago School of Law, Karin was a fellow for the Beasley Institute for Health Law & Policy and served as the editor-in-chief of the Annals of Health Law & Life Sciences. Outside of the office, Karin is an active member of her community, volunteering at Meals on Wheels.
